Storm Obliterates Bandits' Trail Whose Leader Is Believed Killed From Airplane

(By Associated Press)
 Maria, Texas, Aug. 25.—The 375 American cavalrymen who last Tuesday entered Mexico in pursuit of the bandits, who held the American aviators, Peterson and Davis for ransom, are back on American soil today, resuming their patrol of the border. Heavy rains yesterday obliterated the trail of the bandits and brought a decision to abandon the chase. Major Yancy, commander of the expedition, asserted today his belief that shots from an American airplane Tuesday killed Jesus Renteria, leader of the bandits. Meanwhile ranchers and Texas Rangers from settlements along the Rio Grande reported much ill feeling among Mexicans in the small towns across the river. American ranchers fear further depredations by these people who are in sympathy with the bandits.

FRANCO-AMERICAN TREATY HELD VALID

Washington, Aug. 25.—While Germany is vanquished for the present, "nothing but force is likely to restrain her from seeking world domination at the earliest opportunity," in the opinion of the Senate Judiciary sub-committee appointed to report on the validity of the proposed treaty by which the United States would go to the aid of France in the event of an unprovoked attack by Germany.

In holding that the ratification of the treaty is within the constitutional powers of the American government, the sub-committee in its report today said it was for the interest of the United States that France be allowed to recuperate and recover her old time vigor. "She will then be a great shield and protection to us against the German menace in future."

WENDLING CAUGHT

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 25.—Joseph Wendling, Louisville slayer who escaped from the penitentiary Friday, was captured in the streets here last night by Patrolman Scott.

Wendling was armed with a knife and a revolver, and was about two blocks from the home of Mrs. C. W. Doyle, whose young daughter he had annoyed while doing work outside the prison as a trusty prior to his escape.

A short time before Wendling's capture, C. E. Newman had fired at a man who attempted to break into his home. The man ran into an alley and turned into Main street and was walking toward the post-office when Scott, a former prison guard, recognized him as Alma Kellner's slayer.

Wendling started to draw his pistol and the officer knocked him down with his club.

"You oughtn't to hit me that way," Wendling said to the officer as he lay on the ground.

He was taken to the prison hospital where a cut in his scalp was dressed.

Wendling said he left his hiding place in the wooded hills beyond the tunnel in an effort to cross the river to get to the Louisville pike. To do this he had to pass through the main part of the city.

Guards had been near his place of concealment, a half mile from the prison several times, he said.

STRIKE BREAKERS RUN 66 CARS

Louisville, Aug. 25.—Manned by strike breakers, 66 street cars were put in operation on six lines here today, the seventh of the strike of motormen and conductors for changed working conditions and recognition of their union. Minor disorders at several points were reported. According to a statement credited to Mayor Smith a settlement of the strike will be forced but in what way the initial statement did not indicate. Directors of the company announced later they had agreed to meet with leaders of the striking car men's union this evening.

SAYS GOOD WEED WILL STILL SELL HIGH

A. W. King, of Danville, representative of the American Tobacco Company on the breaks there, was in town Friday en route to Lexington. Mr. King came around this way to look over the tobacco crops of Garrard and Madison. He says that the weed is looking fine in all sections and looks for a bumper crop this season. He expects prices on good tobacco to be just as high as ever, but poor quality weed will not sell as high as it did as early last season he thinks. Mr. King is one of the best posted tobacco men in the state and is a popular, public-spirited citizen along with it.

MISS BELLE BENNETT STARTS FOR EUROPE

Is One of Deputation of Five From M. E. Church To Visit Stricken Countries

At the last meeting of the General Board of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, a deputation of five members was elected to visit Europe, and plan for the establishment of Missions in a number of the war-stricken countries.

A Centenary offering of $5,000,000 has been pledged for this purpose, and the membership of the entire church is eager to begin work at the earliest possible time. The deputation which consists of Bishop James Atkins of North Carolina, Dr. W. B. Beauchamp of Nashville, Tenn., Miss Belle H. Bennett of Richmond, Ky., Mr. John R. Pepper a leading banker of Memphis, and Mrs. Luke G. Johnson of Georgia, will sail from Montreal, Canada, on the Steamship Melita, August 29th. This Commission is authorized to visit France, Belgium, Poland, the Czechoslovakia countries and Southern Russia, but the revolutionary conditions in Poland and Southern Russia make their entrance into these countries very doubtful. The United States government declines at the present time, to give passports to the latter. Miss Bennett will leave Richmond on the early morning train Tuesday for Cincinnati, en route to Montreal, where she will sail Friday.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the Madison County Chapter American Red Cross at the Masonic Temple Saturday afternoon, August 30th at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of electing a Chairman and Vice-Chairman as the present officers, Mr. Harvey Chenault and Miss Lucia Burnam, have resigned, their resignations to take effect September 1st. The elections of these officers is absolutely necessary to hold the Chapter together and to retain possession of the Chapter funds which will otherwise probably revert to the National Organization. It is earnestly hoped that there will be a large representation of men as well as women. Harvey Chenault, Chairman. Lucia Burnam, Vice Chairman.

STOCK SHIPPERS CAN'T GET CARS

Local stock shippers are blocked again by the railroads. This time, the trouble is that they are unable to secure stock cars in which to make their shipment to market. Million and Leor shipped three cars of hogs and one of cattle to the Cincinnati market last week, but have been unable to get the promise of any cars for this week they say, and they have arrangements made to take up a large number of head this week. The same complaint is heard from many other points in Kentucky just now and in some of them appeals are being made to the Kentucky congressmen to help out and get the railroad administration to furnish cars to move the live stock which is ready to go to market.

NATION-WIDE STRIKE THREATENED SOON

Says Colorado Senator Who Urges Government To Prepare—Wilson To See Shopmen

(By Associated Press)
 Washington, Aug. 25.—In view of the wage demands made by the railroad employes, the government should take steps to prepare for a nation-wide strike of those employes without waiting until transportation is tied up, the Senate was told today by Senator Thomas, democrat, of Colorado, who presented a circular from the shopmen's union saying if a strike is necessary the employes will be advised by the railway department of the American Federation of Labor and he said this indicated "the certainty of serious contemplation of a universal strike in transportation quarters in the very near future."

President Wilson today cancelled several engagements in order to confer with Director General Hines and representatives of the shopmen, who are demanding a 25 per cent wage increase.

TO THE PEOPLE OF MADISON COUNTY

The Board of Regents of Eastern Kentucky State Normal School met in regular session here recently this month and considered the last fiscal year of the School, the exhaustive audit and report of the business affairs made by Escott and Barnett of Louisville, Ky., noted experts accountants, and were gratified to find everything satisfactory and correct to the last penny.

The school is certainly in a prosperous condition, and the Board was, indeed, surprised to find that notwithstanding the serious rages of the "Flu" and the war, the attendance was materially larger last year than the previous year. Indeed, the "Flu" situation was so well and carefully handled that not a single death resulted therefrom to a pupil of the Normal, and this was the only school in the State that was not forced to close its doors because of this horrible scourge.

The School was so well managed during the last year that out of its yearly income it was able to pay, not only its running expense, but also to pay the balance due on the new building, its furniture, new books for the Library, & c, & c, and to invest a good round sum in Liberty Bonds to be used for the future enlargement, extension and needs of the school.

I take pleasure in telling you that in my opinion the present State Auditor and Attorney General are the best Kentucky has had since 1906, when the Normal School system was established, because the previous officers would decide many questions against the Normal Schools and State University, even though those questions had previously been decided by our Appellate Court in previous cases, thus impairing the credit of these institutions, and compelling new suits (which new suits were, of course, always won by those institutions), and at considerable expense, while the present Auditor and Attorney General only wanted to know what the law was, and to faithfully follow it, and did not once think by the mere loss of their election to office they had thereby become constitutional authorities superior to our Appellate Court.

The outlook for a large and increased attendance at the Normal during the approaching year is good. Indeed, there is an unmistakable awakening in Kentucky for education, far greater than ever before known, and for both elementary and higher education. This is reflected in the increased attendance in all the common schools of Madison and other counties of the State during the past year, notwithstanding the "Flu" and the war.

As you know, the people of Madison and Warren counties donated large and valuable properties to secure the location of each of the Normal Schools, and these properties were about of the same value at each of the Normal Schools, and these properties were about of the same value at each place. These donations were generous, and made possible the establishment of the Normal School system in Kentucky, so badly needed and in doing so Kentucky was only one hundred and fifty years behind Germany, 98 years behind France and 68 years behind New England. But, since the location of the Nor-

Fair tonight and Tuesday; not much change in temperature.

TWO SMALL MADISON FARMS SELL WELL

Scott moores bought the 63 acre farm sold by G. H. Hammons last week at $141 an acre. The tract is splendid land and located about a mile below Lake Reba on the Irvine pike. John E. Norris sold 62 acres of his farm on the Concord road in the same section to John S. Long, of Round Hill at $140 an acre. This leaves Mr. Norris a mighty nice boundary of about 250 acres.

MADISON MEN BUY FARM IN WOODFORD

News comes from Versailles that William K. McCabe sold his farm in Woodford county on the Oregon pike containing 155 acres, for $25,000 to Roy Wells and Lindsey McCarley of Madison county. In the same county, S. B. Wilson sold to Lula Coyle 20 acres of land for $1,000, and S. B. Wilson sold to Charles Wilson 24 acres of land on the Seller's Mill pike for $1,000.

Adjusted Hail Loss Here

R. M. Newland, well known insurance man of Lincoln county, was over Monday morning adjusting a hail loss for L. P. Evans, Richmond insurance man, on the tobacco crop of T. D. Chenault, Jr., on the Big Hill pike. Mr. Chenault sustained some damage to his crop from the big hail of a few weeks ago. He was awarded $5 an acre on four acres, which was satisfactory to all concerned. Mr. Newland's services are much in demand for adjusting hail losses.

mal School at Bowling Green the people of Warren county have aided their school more than the people of Madison. This aid is most forcibly seen by two important facts: First, many more pupils from Warren county attend the Normal School at Bowling Green than attend from Madison county our Normal at Richmond, and second, and more important than this attendance is the fact that the Bowling Green Normal has not been compelled to construct dormitories to accommodate the pupils because the local community provides board and lodging at reasonable prices for all students, while here we have been compelled to spend some eighty thousand dollars for dormitories. Indeed, our teachers have often found it impossible to rent houses, or even get board convenient to the school.

I feel that I should call your attention to this condition, and when done that you will correct it. As you know, we had Central University here for 27 years, and during much of that time it had a faculty scarcely second to any in America, and yet our people did not take full advantage of the chance to get a College education, and its managers in moving it, said one of the chief causes of removal was failure of proper local patronage. We see that failure to have proper local accommodations causing the civil business in our Federal Court to go where such modern accommodations can be had. I hope that no failure on the part of the people of Madison will cause the removal of our Normal Schools, or other Normals to be built elsewhere.

I think it my duty to make this statement to you, and want you to consider it. I know the high cost of living, but this exists elsewhere as well as here. I know that there has always been a desire for higher education in Richmond and Madison County, but this has, it seems, been confined to all too few families or persons. I do not exaggerate when I say that our Normal stands in the forefront of such schools in America. The thought and purpose of a Normal School is to teach teachers how to teach, or how to impart knowledge to others. The theoretical Normal is a post-graduate school, and its purpose is not to impart knowledge, except as to method of imparting knowledge to pupils.

But, this is not only a theoretical school, it is a practical school, intended to meet conditions in Kentucky, which require the imparting of knowledge, as well as of method. I with the approval of Judge A. R. Burnam, Judge Louis McQuowen and Gov. Beckham drew the law to meet the needs of Kentucky.

Respectfully,
 J. A. SULLIVAN,
 Aug. 24th, 1919 Local Regent
